A FEW OF THE 550,000 MADE HOMELESS BY FLOODS

A few days ago this was a Cincinnati school room but now it is one of the many emergency stations opened by the Red Cross in the flood ridden city A worker is shown distributing clothing to a few of the thousands driven from their homes

Forced to flee for their lives before the threatening flood waters which swept down on McKees Rocks Pa driving them from their home these two little children and their mother Mrs Theresa Grey dropped to sleep with sheer exhaustion on the floor of a relief station (International News Photo)

County Pours Cash, Food, Clothing into Flood Area

Marion county valiantly continued today to pour money food and clothing into the devastated flood areas

An additional $1 200 was sent to the national Red Cross at noon today bringing the county's total contributions to $2 000 since the first appeal for $800 was made Saturday

A second emergency appeal to double your relief fund quota and go as far beyond the doubled figure as possible came to the Marion county chapter office last night from National Chairman Cary T Grayson Indications today are that Marion county's share toward the millions appealed for will pass the $3 500 mark

The entire city and county is joining in the relief drive

The Marion Steam Shovel Athletic association the promoters of last night's wrestling match at the shovel gymnasium and the audience in a freewill collection gave $162 87 to the Red Cross

A benefit stage show for the flood sufferers will be given at the Central Junior High school Thursday night at 8 by the Dramatic department of the Marion County WPA emergency school Details of the benefit show appear elsewhere

HOW TO HELP FLOOD VICTIMS

Money Give cash or check at the Marion County Red Cross office second floor of Y M C A building South State street place it in containers at banks and stores or if impossible to be in uptown district call 2439 and it will be collected at home

Food and clothing Take to American Legion Dugout South High street Salvation Army hall at 403 West Center street Veterans of Foreign Wars room at 115½ South Main street or Junior Chamber of Commerce room 131 East Center street Or contributions will be collected in trucks by calling the Legion at 2084 4126 6162 41[illegible] the Army at [illegible]168 and Veterans of Foreign Wars at 3934

Tonight at 8 30 Marion Lodge No 889 L O O Moose will give the second of a series of flood relief card parties at the hall at 228 East Center street.

Food Clothing Collected

Eight ton was the conservative estimate today of the amount of food and clothing collected yesterday and last night by the American Legion Salvation Army Veterans of Foreign Wars and Junior Chamber of Commerce

Seven trucks left the Legion Dugout today one going directly to the flood zone with food and supplies and the others reporting at Columbus for distribution of the clothing and food Each truck carried from a ton to a ton and a half

Marion Post No 3313 Veterans of Foreign Wars responding to a call from the state headquarters yesterday rushed a ton and a half of contributions of food and clothing to Zanesville where the state V F W has had relief headquarters set up since Saturday A sec

EAST ARKANSAS RULED BY ARMY

Troops Also Patrol Tennessee Levees as Dixie Battles Record Flood

28 DEAD IN THREE STATES

125,000 Homeless and Two Million Acres Inundated, Dikes May Burst Soon

By The Associated Press

MEMPHIS Tenn Jan 26—Martial law was ordered for eastern Arkansas and troops patrolled weakening Tennessee levees today for the south's fight against all time high flood water

Twenty eight persons were known dead in Arkansas Tennessee and Mississippi The homeless were estimated unofficially at 125 000 and 2 000 000 acres lay under water of the Mississippi on its southern tributaries

Gov Carl E Bailey authorized by his legislature to declare martial law in the east Arkansas flood zone ordered three companies of guardsmen out at once when government engineers advised that the main Mississippi river levee at Mellwood 20 miles south of Helena might go out within 24 to 36 hours

Troops Police Area

Gov Gordon Browning said he considered martial law unnecessary in West Tennessee but that troops would police the areas in the Mississippi lowlands around Tiptonville

Warning that a super flood is on its way came from Lieut. Col Reybold district chief of U S Army engineers and spurred harassed relief worker

Many More Flee

Wholesale evacuation of beleaguered towns in Tennessee western Kentucky southeastern Missouri, Arkansas and Mississippi burdened refugee centers while the Mississippi felt out the strength of its confining dikes

There will be 55 feet in Memphis before the water now in sight from the Ohio moves out" Col Reybold said adding that the crest probably would come within 10 days or two weeks He predicted general stages along the Mississippi some 10 feet beyond records set in the disastrous 1913 and 1927 floods

The Mississippi hit 42 feet here today eight feet above flood stage and less than five from the 1913 record of 46.6

Col Reybold offered the aid of

FLOOD VICTIMS FLEE TO HILLS

Death Toll Mounts to 111 With Number Homeless Set at 550,000 in 11 States

'WORST IS YET TO COME'

Property Damage in Excess of $10 000 000 as All Relief Agencies Speed Activities

By The Associated Press

Fear stricken tens of thousands cowered [illegible] fled to higher levels today as the monstrous yellow tide of the Ohio river swelled to record breaking flood heights in its sweep to the Mississippi

Eddying in muddy slow rising torrents the waters spread over an area of more than a million acres taking a toll of at least 111 known dead driving 550 000 from their homes and leaving many thousands more marooned in perilous straits Whole towns and villages showed only rooftops

Property damage was estimated far in excess of $10 000 000 and on every side from city officials and army engineers came the warning

The worst is yet to come

All Flee Towns

Wholesale evacuations of flood besieged towns in Tennessee western Kentucky southeastern Missouri Arkansas and Mississippi signaled the greatest mass flood exodus in history

From Pittsburgh in the north where anxious crowds watched the flood relentlessly spread over the billion-dollar business district to the crest of the deluge sweeping into the Mississippi river beyond Cairo Ill a panorama of watery desolation extended mile on mile

In the lower Mississippi valley where 600 000 were made homeless in 1927 authorities awaited the biggest test of the great system of dikes and levees built along a 200-mile stretch of the Mississippi after the 1927 disaster

"Step On It" Says Roosevelt

President Roosevelt anxiously watching the progress of the tidal sweep through 11 states sent out the crisp command of legislators debating a $790 000 000 relief request

Step on it

The President sent out word that the fund originally intended to care for work relief should be appropriated for flood sufferers in the emergency He allotted $900 000 of emergency conservation funds to refugee relief

Harry L Hopkins WPA administrator estimated 650 000 to 700,000 would be homeless by Wednesday or Thursday

Red Cross officials renewed their urgent appeal for contributions to a $4 000,000 relief fund The first day's receipts at national headquarters totaled $55,620, repre-

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI Jan 26 This flood besieged city watched the swollen Ohio river continue its inexorable rise to the 80 foot mark today as the water supply situation for its 500 000 residents became more serious hourly

Waterworks Supt Albert S Hibbs described the water situation in one word—bad

Water flowed in the mains between 7 and 8 a m but thousands of householders on high ground got not a drop

Hibbs set no time for turning on the water tonight Present rationing he said should permit the reservoir supply to last for 10 days

All Water Polluted

There was no city water fit to drink The yellow Ohio river was polluted with sewage The reservoir water was made undrinkable by wastes stirred by the alternate emptying and filling of the mains Hibbs ordered all water taken from faucets to be boiled at least 10 minutes

Maurice J Pollak directing the job of supplying hospitals appealed to all oil companies to furnish tank trucks to transport water from outlying artesian wells

[illegible] Q near Greenhills offered 140 000 gallons of water a day

Waterworks officials measured the amount consumed from 7 to 8 a m and reported the Eden park reservoir dropped less than a foot and still held 67 000 000 gallons the Indian Hills tanks and Mt Auburn reservoir were completely dry and the Mt Airy reservoir had 25 000 gallons left

Hamilton Sends 10 Tanks

The city of Hamilton shipped 10 tank cars to Cincinnati hospital each held 10 000 gallons

Hamilton also sent water to Mt Healthy in milk trucks

First the supply was reduced to four hours daily—then two Today the ration was cut to but one hour

City Manager C A Dykstra before leaving city hall for his first sleep in 36 hours said it might be necessary to reduce the supply to 15 minutes a day

Believes Crest Reached

Meteorologist W C Devereaux said he believed the crest had been reached when the yellow flood waters rose to the unprecedented height of 80 feet at 3 a m This was 28 feet above flood stage and nearly 10 feet above the previous record

The river at 7 a m still stood at 80 feet after several dips of 79.7 feet The fall will be so slow

LOUISVILLE Ky Jan 26 — United States army troops moved today on flood devastated Louisville to clamp down the military rule declared by Gov A B Chandler at the request of Mayor Neville Miller's emergency relief committee

The first task confronting regular army engineers upon their arrival this afternoon from Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind was construction of pontoon bridges on flooded thoroughfares to complete the evacuation of more than two thirds of this city's 330 000 citizens

Nearly 20 000 refugees from the low lying western and central residential districts remained to be moved to the highlands

850 Troopers Ordered

A battalion of 850 men was ordered here from Fort Benjamin Harrison and 450 men from Fort Thomas Ky after Gov Chandler informed the federal government state and local authorities could not combat pestilence panic and hunger in the wake of Louisville's most disastrous flood

Pointing out that the Kentucky constitution did not authorize martial law Chandler explained he was declaring it anyway because of the flood crisis Martial law applied only to Louisville Two thousand Kentucky national guardsmen however were on flood duty in the state

The mighty Ohio river widened ominously today over Louisville and its Indiana suburbs Jeffersonville and New Albany The weather bureau recorded a stage of 56.9 feet with a crest of from 57 to 58 feet predicted by tonight The rate of rise was slightly more than one twentieth of a foot an hour

Fire Breaks Out

Flood waters prevented firemen from getting equipment to a fire which broke out early today at the Louisville Varnish company's plant But the flames after shooting high into the sky appeared several hours later to have died down without spreading to other buildings Two Negro men badly burned were brought to a relief station Boatmen reported two other Negroes had drowned

Louisville again went without electricity Hospitals and relief centers as well as private homes burned candles or oil lamps last night St Anthony's hospital was supplied after broadcasting an appeal for lanterns There were scattered cases of typhoid scarlet fever and measles

Mayor Miller ordered all food

Assembly Acts To Prevent Epidemic in Wake of Flood

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O Jan 26 The Ohio legislature told that hell will break loose when the waters recede" acted today to prevent disease from ravaging flood stricken areas of the state

The house adopted and sent to the senate a resolution requesting President Roosevelt and congress to send army engineers physicians and public health specialists to the inundated zone

Earlier the general assembly rushed through a $250,000 appropriation for flood relief a sum described as "not any way near enough" by Rep W H. Whetro Democrat of Lawrence whose constituents include flood sufferers of Ironton

Dressed in overalls and boots after toiling for three days without sleep in rescue work Whetro told the house

"I am here trying to get aid for my city which is in dire need of food clothing medical supplies boats and everything necessary to cope with the situation.

I don't want anything for myself although I have lost everything in the flood The clothes that I now have on are the only ones I have."

Cheered when he took the floor and said he had hitch hiked to Columbus the legislator declared Ironton residents were not receiving proper medical attention

Cites Maternity Cases

"There were three maternity cases in the flood section today

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH OBSERVES MEN'S DAY

Clifford C. Cowan of Cleveland Addresses Episcopal Group

Clifford C Cowan of Cleveland spoke before a dinner me[illegible] the men of St Pauls Episcopal church held last night in commemoration of St Pauls day. Grant Mouser Jr acted as toastmaster and Rev Samuel J Ha[illegible] who is completing his tenth year as rector welcomed the men and gave a brief report of the parish for the past year.

J Fred Dombaugh senior warden of the vestry gave an interesting report on the early history of the church beginning with the fact that a plot of ground on which the church stands was given by Eber Baker the founder of Marion and a member of the first vestry of St Pauls.

In his brief review of the church's history he noted that in 1822 when the population of Marion was but 700 the Rev James M H[illegible] rector of St Peter's church in Delaware ministered to Episcopal families in Marion and that it was not until 1846 that Marion had its first resident rector Rev [illegible] Thompson. On May 17 1852 he said the first service of confirmation was held with [illegible] being one of eight persons confirmed by the bishop. Ground for the present church he told [illegible] was broken in the fall of 18[illegible]. It was planned to make the St Paul's day men's dinner an annual affair. The dinner last night was served by the women of St Hilda's Guild.

SERMON SUBJECT

The Stewardship of Prayer will be the subject of Rev W F Hayden's evangelistic sermon at the First Memorial Baptist church tonight at 7 30 o'clock. The services which began last Sunday night will continue each night for two weeks. F H LaMasters of the Trinity Baptist church will be in charge of music for tonight's program.

SMART CLASS PLANS MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Epworth Group Meets at Church Orcutt Speaks

Plans for the annual membership contest were made by members of the Smart Sunday School class of Epworth M E church last night at a monthly business and social meeting at the church. W J Orcutt principal of Central Junior High school spoke on juvenile delinquency.

Dinner was served preceding the short business meeting at which the annual budget of the class was adopted. Harold W Hall president was in charge. The class now with a total membership of more than 60 was divided into two teams. The losing team in the contest will provide and serve a dinner to the winners at the close of the contest which is to last through February and March.

The social program was opened with group singing led by Dr V C Kissell. Mr Orcutt gave an interesting talk on juvenile delinquency and urged a more efficient supervision of delinquents on probation. He also described conditions in various penal institutions recalling his experiences while serving on an educational committee for investigation of such institutions.

Guests included Dr W P Castor of Lima District superintendent of Epworth churches and Rev Stanley Wian.

Says Lawsuits Invited

Regarding the vote on the appropriations Williams [illegible] after the meeting that elected officials who have not voluntarily signed 10 per cent pay waivers are within their legal rights in insisting on full salaries and said he feels the city is merely inviting the cost of a law suit by failing to make full appropriations for those who did not sign waivers.

On the other side of the picture many officials contend it is unfair to pay some office holders full pay when many are taking voluntary pay cuts.

The appropriations proposed by the finance committee total $219 683.12 for the operation of various municipal departments in 1937. This is an increase of $37 726.67 over the 1936 appropriations. Increases include $10 000 additional each for the fire and the police departments to prevent repetition of 1936 furloughs full appropriations for fire hydrant rental and street lights whereas only 60 per cent appropriations were made last year for those purposes $1500 for sewer flushing and the spreading of $1000 among miscellaneous items in various departments.

Those who have not signed pay cut waivers and who have contended they can collect full salaries by taking the issue into court are Councilmen Williams Hart and Fabian (Mr Fabian was absent last night) City Solicitor Ralph I Carhart Auditor J L Landes Municipal Judge William R Martin and Treasurer Sherman Hildman.

Issue Not New

The issue is not a new one. It has been present throughout the period dating back to the retrenchment programs started during early depression years and has involved county as well as city officeholders. The group of officials involved in the current question of full salary appropriation have received only 85 per cent of their salaries for 1936 to date and at least one has indicated a law suit is planned to force payment of the remainder.

None of the three council members voting against a suspension of the rules is a member of the finance committee which drafted the appropriations in conference with Mayor Smith and Clerk Harry Brookhart. Councilman Shuster is the only one of the trio who has signed a 15 per cent salary waiver officials said.

The finance committee through its chairman Councilman Robert Stief met last night's sudden development by submitting at the close of the meeting a motion that council adjourn to Wednesday night. This move will bring the appropriations up for a second reading soon instead of at the next regular meeting in two weeks. It is expected another adjourned session will be held [illegible] this [illegible] week to give it the third reading if the separate reading rule is [illegible] suspended Wednesday night.

As this strategy apparently [illegible]

Annual reports of the health department and monthly reports of the health and police departments were read.

Council also renewed its lease with the Fraternal Order of Eagles for city office space for 1937 at a monthly rental of $175 a continuation of the present rate.

DINNER TO CLOSE SCOUT ACTIVITIES

Marion To Join Nation in Honor To President

Committee Nears Completion of Plans for Birthday Ball Saturday for Crippled Children

President Franklin D Roosevelt whose birthday Jan 30 will be the occasion for a series of celebrations throughout the country to raise funds for the nation's war against infantile paralysis is pictured above with Colonel Henry L Doherty for the fourth time national chairman of the world's biggest birthday party. Colonel Doherty appointed Common Pleas Judge Hector S Young as Marion county chairman.

The President's birthday dance Saturday night at the Elks hall will be one of more than 5000 over the country according to preliminary estimates made by Colonel Henry L Doherty for the fourth year chairman of the national committee.

Proceeds on the basis of collections in previous years are expected to exceed a million dollars.

In Marion 70 per cent of the proceeds will go toward the purchase of an exercise tank for the infantile paralysis victims at the Marion Crippled Children's school and 30 per cent will go to the Warm Springs Foundation for Infantile paralysis research.

Tickets $1 a Couple

Tickets may be purchased for $1 a couple from Common Pleas Judge Hector S Young Marion county chairman from the ticket chairmen Paul D Reynolds and Homer D Cole from members of the general committee or at several uptown business places and lodge halls.

More than 300 000 victims of paralysis in the United States continue to need the assistance of their fellow citizens in rehabilitating themselves as useful members of the community according to Colonel Doherty.

Leaders in every field of national activity have rallied to the national committee in its efforts to make the all American birthday party a success. Science art labor politics and society are all prepared to lend their support to the committee.

The press the radio the movies and other agencies as in former years are generously offering their space and time.

Among the national leaders who were prompt to accept membership on the national committee were Ambassador Joseph V Davies Charles G Dawes Edsel B Ford Walter S Gifford William Green Patrick Cardinal Hayes William Randolph Hearst Bishop William T Manning and General John J Pershing.

Hearty Response

In Marion Judge Young met with a cheerful "Sure" or "Okay" when he asked residents of the city and county to serve on the various committees necessary to make the dance a success.

With the customary presidential inaugural ball in Washington eliminated this year the capital will outdo itself in celebration of the birthday of the chief executive. As has been the custom for the last three years President Roosevelt is expected to broadcast a message to the celebration throughout the nation.

NEW CAMERA VIEWS OF SCENES IN FLOOD STRICKEN AREA

RESCUE OF FLOOD VICTIM AT PORTSMOUTH

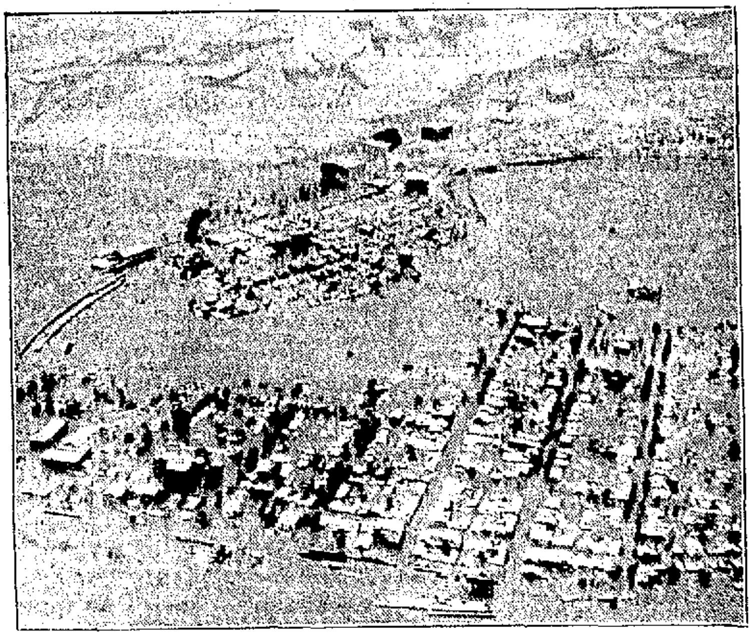
Ill and exhausted from her struggle to protect her family and possessions from the unrelenting flood waters which claimed her home, this elderly woman is being carried to safety in Portsmouth, O.

PORTSMOUTH STREET BECOMES RAGING TORRENT

A raging torrent of the Ohio river, spouting high over the flood-wall at Portsmouth, swirls madly down this street, a residential section of the illfated city. (International News Photo)

HILLS OFFER REFUGE TO 6,000 IN LAWRENCEBURG, IND.



The only dry spots near the city of Lawrenceburg, Ind., were the snow covered hills to the north and it was to them that 6,000 residents fled when angry waters of the Ohio river completely inundated the place. This air view was taken as a relief train bringing in supplies was halted near the water edge on the left side of the hill. (Associated Press Photo)

COAST GUARD BOATS IN FLOODED AREA

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 26—Ten additional coast guard boats manned by 45 men arrived today for flood duty. The Red Cross said the boats would be moved into the Louisville area at once.

Ten coast guard boats with a crew of 45 men had arrived here earlier.

MOVEMENT GROWS FOR FLOOD CONTROL

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Jan. 26—A movement for Ohio river flood control legislation gained momentum today.

City Manager and "Disaster Dictator" C. A. Dykstra telegraphed President Roosevelt suggesting that a congressional investigating committee visit the Cincinnati flood sector.

GAS STRIKE ENDS IN TOLEDO AREA

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 26 — Gas workers returned today to posts they abandoned 11 days ago after settlement of a strike at plants of the Ohio Fuel Gas and the Northwestern Ohio Natural Gas companies.

Edward F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor, who announced the settlement late yesterday, disclosed provisions of the agreement. These included:

Wage increases ranging from five to 40 per cent; vacations with pay; a signed one-year contract; a 40-hour week; dismissal wage in case of retrenchment; time-and-a-half and double time for overtime work; pay retroactive to Jan. 1; a "more adequate" seniority system, and sick benefits.

MUSKINGUM GOING DOWN

By The Associated Press

ZANESVILLE, O., Jan. 26—Waters of the Muskingum river receded slowly today from the business district and the homes of 200 families after reaching a record crest of 37.8 feet, the highest since the 1913 flood. Shelter for 750 refugees was provided by the Red Cross and other relief agencies.

COLUMBUS BOY DROWNS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 26—The body of Daniel Bush Jr., 11, was sought today in flooded Big Walnut creek in which the body drowned yesterday when a boat in which he and two companions were playing sank. The others escaped.

FLOOD ADVANCES ON EVANSVILLE

The broad streets of Evansville southwestern Indiana industrial center, were converted into seas of ice-laden Ohio river floodwater as the city prepared for the worst flood in its history. ## HEAD OF RED CROSS FLOOD RELIEF

Directing the intensive $2,000,000 campaign launched by Washington to relieve stricken flood areas, Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, chairman of the American Red Cross, studies a map of the devastated area where it is estimated that more than 400,000 have been left homeless.

RELIEF BILL PASSAGE IS EXPECTED TODAY

Speaker Bankhead Says He Will Hold House in Session Until Vote.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26—Speaker Bankhead told reporters he would hold the house in session today until it had passed a $790,000,000 relief-deficiency appropriation bill on which the administration is counting for flood-relief funds.

He said an agreement to limit debate would be sought and that "every effort" would be made to obtain passage before nightfall.

"The administration is anxious to get the bill through," he said.

Party lines were disregarded by a group of representatives in mapping a campaign designed to increase the President Roosevelt's deficiency relief-deficiency appropriation to $1,499,000,000.

Pending its passage, President Roosevelt allotted $900,000 of emergency conservation funds to the relief of refugees.

A noon report of the Red Cross was that $375,078 had been collected for flood relief.

FOUR BILLS AIM AT OHIO CRIME

Measures Seek To Create Uniform System Among States in Gang War.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 26—Four bills designed to establish uniformity among the states in dealing with crime were offered in the house last night by Rep. Al Kalb, Democrat of Ottawa, who attended a national conference of state legislators in Washington last week.

Identical bills are to be introduced in virtually all the state legislatures.

The measures deal with compulsory attendance of witnesses from without the state; authorize enforcement officers from one state to enter other states in "fresh pursuit" of criminals; set up uniformity in laws governing extraditions, and authorize Ohio to enter into compacts with other states or the United States for mutual helpfulness in controlling crime.

Two Labor Bills

Two bills to set up state boards of arbitration and conciliation for settlement of labor disputes were introduced in the house.

Rep. Ray A. Knight, Democrat of Summit, proposed a five-member board of two representing employers and two labor, to be appointed by the governor, and the fifth, an attorney, to be appointed by the other four.

Rep. George F. Ketterer, Democrat of Franklin, proposed re-creation of the old board of arbitration and conciliation which was repealed several years ago when the industrial commission act was passed. It provides a five member board of two representing employers, two labor and a fifth the general public, all to be appointed by the governor.

Other house bills introduced and their authors included:

To make tipping in restaurants and hotels illegal and to levy a 10 per cent service charge to be paid to employe—Frank J. Richter, Democrat of Hamilton.

To establish a 40-hour work week for state employes and fix their minimum pay, except for temporary workers, at $1,800 a year—Frank E. Simpson, Democrat of Hamilton.

Chain Store Tax

To tax chain stores from $5 to $250, depending upon number in a chain — Arthur J. Bergnhardt, Democrat of Lucas;

To permit municipalities to deal directly with public utilities instead of through state utilities commission—Paul J. Decarlis and Walter Becker, Democrats of Hamilton;

To place all personal property on the tax duplicate at 100 per cent actual value—C. H. Armbruster, Democrat of Henry;

To return all license tag revenue to the county where collected—Armbruster.

To allocate all liquid fuel tax revenue to road and highway funds—Armbruster, and

To compute the wag
man under the compe
at six times the daily
of the average weekly
J. McGowan, Democr

Marion Council Chartered in 1856 Has Notable Record in Masonic Circles

Third Oldest Body of Lodge in Marion, Excells in Degree Work.

Marion's third oldest Masonic body Marion Council No [illegible] Royal and Select Masters will celebrate tonight the eightieth anniversary of its organization and the elevation of its fifth member Harvey T Gracely of 331 East Church street to the office of grand master of the grand council Royal and Select Masters of the State of Ohio

Last year when the Masonic calendar was made up the [illegible] early [illegible] October But when fire swept a portion of the temple in July the program was postponed until repairs and remodeling were completed Work was rushed in the last few weeks and the council's celebration tonight will be in the newly remodeled and redecorated temple

Marion council was chartered on Oct 18 1856 and in its 80 years has had the honor of having five of its members elevated to the office of grand master a larger number than have been drafted from any other council outside the large cities

Excells in Degree Work

It has attained prominence not only for its membership exceeding in numbers without exception any other city of like size but for its correct and always lavishly staged rendition of the ritual especially that of the super excellent master's degree

This degree as it is present exists in Ohio and elsewhere is largely due to the elaboration given it by Marion council

The organizers of the council were among the city's foremost citizens

First among these men was Dr Timothy P Fisher a son in law of Judge Sanford S Bennett and father of Charles C Fisher of 402 Mt Vernon avenue dean of the Marion County bar Dr Fisher was a charter member and the first thrice illustrious master of the council At intervals for 20 years he presided over the council first putting it under way and later when it seemed doomed to failure by his own actions personality bringing it to life and making it a permanent institution He was the first m[illegible] grand master serving in 18[illegible]

Dr Fisher was ably [illegible] by such men as Judge J[illegible] who succeeded him Philip [illegible]baugh one of the county [illegible] clerks and [illegible] Mark[illegible] and Jacob Harsh[illegible] [illegible]

Remodeling of Temple Completed After Fire

For the first time since last July the Marion Masonic temple will be open throughout tonight when Marion Council No 22 Royal and Select Masters celebrates its eightieth anniversary of organization and the elevation of Harvey T Gracely of 331 East Church street

The building is one of the largest Masonic meeting places in central Ohio

A vast improved home will [illegible] master Masons [illegible] extensive remodeling and [illegible] building [illegible] 71 [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] was done to the building [illegible] by fire [illegible] approximately $10,000 [illegible] has [illegible] the building [illegible] of the structure and [illegible] building [illegible]

Before the fire [illegible] was brought [illegible] in [illegible] which [illegible] the remodeling [illegible]

[illegible] built in [illegible] the addition has been enlarged [illegible] club rooms in a 22 by 44 foot area additional office space for the secretary and the addition of a committee room on the third floor and an additional small lodge room and anteroom space for the Order of DeMolay and Job's Daughters on the fourth floor

Adjoins Secretary's Office

The new committee room on the third floor adjoins the secretary's office on the north and [illegible] decorated like the office in [illegible] ivory and white with [illegible] indirect lighting fixtures Both the office and committee room are floored in hardwood Office furniture has been refinished It [illegible] have been covered with brown battleship linoleum

The fire damaged the [illegible] section [illegible] building [illegible] actual destruction of [illegible] supplies and furniture by smoke and water and scorched walls from the main lodge room and [illegible] which was protected by [illegible] wall [illegible] the office [illegible] and [illegible] confined [illegible] damage [illegible] from [illegible] the temple [illegible] the building [illegible] was some smoke damage in the dining room which has been done over in ivory and white and new tables have been added to replace those burned in the fire The dining room will accommodate 300 persons

Elevator Is Rebuilt

In planning the remodeling one of the first thoughts of the Masonic Temple Co which owns the property was for the elevator somewhat antiquated with the passing years and the remodeled lift and shaft as well as all of the new electrical wiring which has been placed in conduits has been planned and executed in accordance with the state fire laws

Formerly the elevator proper was open on all sides and the shaft was constructed of crossed steel strips The shaft has been encased in sheet steel and the cab also is enclosed in sheet steel with steel sliding doors at each floor and the whole finished in bronze

Also in accordance with the state fire laws has been the extending of hand rails on both sides of the stairway which leads from the first to the fourth floors Steps and landings have been reset and repainted and all woodwork has been refinished

The enlarged club room will accommodate a regulation billiard table two standard pool tables and numerous tables for cards lighted by green shaded lights suspended just above the heads of the players The room has been finished in ivory and tan

Carpet of Burgundy

A heavily padded burgundy carpet covers the main lounge on the second floor a room primarily for leisure use of the members of the Masonic bodies Walls have been covered in Tiffany finish in green with an ivory drop ceiling Entrance is gained through plate glass French doors Space has been provided for two davenports [illegible] chairs [illegible] table [illegible] comfortable lounge chair

The women's parlor on the third floor has been refinished in green [illegible] Both the women's parlor and the main lodge hall were redecorated [illegible] the fire [illegible] green The [illegible] lodge room [illegible] damage [illegible] was confined [illegible] [illegible] $6,000 [illegible] [illegible] on Nov 20 1901 The Masonic Temple Co was incorporated on April 5 1901 for $50,000 and shortly after the present site at Church and Main streets was purchased

TREAT A COLD AS IF YOU MEAN IT!

Don't Fool Around with Half-way Measures and Invite Serious Complications!

One of the worst things you can do is kid around with a cold

The so called common cold causes more serious sickness and more enforced absence from work than anything else

It's a mistake to treat a cold lightly A cold calls for a cold treatment and not a cure all A cold calls for internal treatment for a cold is an internal infection

One of the best things you can take for a cold is Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine Your own doctor will tell you that.

First of all Bromo Quinine is a cold tablet made expressly for the treatment of cold

Secondly it is internal medication and of fourfold effect

Here's what it does

First it opens the bowels an advisable step in treating a cold

Second it checks the infection in the system

Third it relieves the headache and fever

Fourth it tones the system and helps fortify against further attack

Bromo Quinine tablets now come sugar coated as well as plain The sugar coated are exactly the same as the regular except that the tablets are coated with sugar for palatability

Play safe in your treatment of a cold! The moment you feel the first symptom go right to your druggist for a package of Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine

Start taking the tablets immediately two every four hours That action will usually break up a cold in 24 hours

Bromo Quinine contains nothing harmful and is safe to take Ask the druggist for Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine and insist upon getting what you ask for!

The few pennies cost may save you a lot in medical bills

Forms For Making Returns

Form for filing [illegible] of come for 1936 have been [illegible] persons who filed returns a year Failure to receive a form however does not relieve a tax payer of his obligation to file his return and pay the tax on time or before March 15 if the return is made on the calendar year basis as is the case with most individuals

Forms may be obtained upon request written or personal from the offices of collectors of internal revenue and deputy collectors Persons whose net income for 1936 was derived chiefly from salary or wages and was not in excess of $5,000 should make their return on form 1040A Persons whose net income was in excess of $5,000 or regardless of amount was derived from a business profession rents or sale of property are required to use a larger form 1040 Failure to use the proper form presents difficulties to both the tax payer and the bureau of internal revenue The bureau emphasized that a taxpayer engaged in a business or profession from which he derived a net income of less than $5,000 is required to use the larger form

The return must be filed with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the tax payer has his legal residence or principal place of business on or before midnight of March 15 1937 The tax may be paid in full at the time of filing the return or in four equal installments due on or before March 15 June 15 September 15 and December 15

Your Health

BY DR R S COPELAND

Emergency Treatment

NOT SO long ago I told you about a medical convention where there was a discussion of common industrial accidents The importance of early care of the so called minor injuries was urged

About the same time this meeting was held in New York the American College of Surgeons was holding a convention in Philadelphia There an eminent surgeon pointed out that a great deal of harm is done by hurriedly moving the victim of an accident Indeed the victim's position should not be changed until the doctor arrives

A one surgeon said often the best thing to do is to do nothing For example in case of automobile accidents an attempt to move a victim to his feet or to transfer him to a car may increase the effects of a fracture It may perhaps cause dangerous pressure in a spinal chord injury leading to paralysis or something worse

It was pointed out that there are from one million to two million five hundred fractures annually in the United States In a large number of cases helpful but untrained persons often increase the injury

For example the victim of an accident may be suffering from a broken bone which will create little harm if left alone until it is set by the doctor But if the sufferer attempts to walk or is moved the jagged ends of the broken bone will cut and damage the tissue In addition unnecessary and unskilled movement often carry the dirt of the street into the wound and this may lead to serious infection

Of course I do not mean to imply that it is best to disregard an injured person You must use common sense But if he appears severely injured and you are not familiar with the necessary emergency treatment it is best not to attempt to move him

It is the belief expressed in the meeting of the American College of Surgeons that if everyone would follow this advice a great deal of unnecessary trouble would be prevented Surely it is good advice

Emergency first aid stations where adequate medical care can be given should be available in all districts But anyhow knowing how to care for the injured is of benefit to every one

COUNTY RUSHES AID TO FLOOD TERRITORY

ond truck will leave Marion for Zanesville Wednesday

A truck load of blankets and bedding from the Wayfarers lodge at one time operated by the Salvation Army in Marion was sent to Cincinnati by truck last night

A load of food and clothing including a half ton of contributions from Waldo school children will be taken to Cincinnati Wednesday It was estimated that by tonight the Army will have received at least two tons of relief supplies from Marion city and county residents As long as calls come in the Army truck will pick up contributions Captain Rothwell Stickley said this morning

Four men were out this morning working for the Army and at the hall four women were sorting the clothing into boxes of wear for boys girls men and women All the Army contributions will be trucked to Army relief headquarters in Cincinnati

Junior Chamber Sends Truck

A large truckload of food and clothing was sent to the Legion headquarters in Memorial hall at Columbus yesterday by the Junior Chamber of Commerce The Junior Chamber office at 133 East Center street will remain open until 6 tonight and after 6 contributions will be received at Bartlett's drug store

From the county have come several reports of generous flood relief work

Three truckloads of clothing and food have gone into the flood area from LaRue since yesterday and contributions of money have gone beyond the $200 mark

From Waldo $156.09 has been turned over to the Marion county Red Cross chapter and additional funds have been promised Fire Chief Frank Edward Fireman Frank Groll and Rev H A Blum of the Evangelical and Reformed church chairman of the Waldo Red Cross branch chapter canvassed the town yesterday for funds and have placed collection boxes at the postoffice and Gabler's general store American Legion members and Boy Scouts have been active in collecting food and clothing most of which has been turned over to the Marion Legionnaires Food and clothing gathered at the Waldo school was to be picked up Wednesday by a Salvation Army truck heading into Cincinnati from Marion

Throughout the Harding area of Boy Scouts comprising Marion Wyandot Morrow and Crawford counties the boys are cooperating with all recognized relief agencies chiefly in assisting to collect clothing and food Arthur S Brook executive head said today The work of the boys is being commended in all communities he said Marion Boy Scouts have been asked to contribute food and clothing at the regular patrol meetings to be turned over to the American Legion

Junior Red Cross boys and girls have been on duty in the Marion theaters since Saturday working under the direction of Mr J M Quigley Junior chairman and will continue on duty tonight After tonight audience solicitations at the Palace and Ohio theaters will cease Miss Lillian Plack Red Cross chapter secretary said today The theaters have given generously of time and have been the means of raising more than $[illegible]00 in fund and in doing so have reached a majority of theater patrons

The first American Legion truck left Marion for Columbus about 3 30 p m yesterday Another went at 11 last night and a third load was sent by truck about 10 a m today

Dugout headquarters for unloading was a beehive of activity last night as post members women of the auxiliary and men of Marion Voiture 48 40 et 8 took care of the tons of contribution

Some men were assigned to pick up duty throughout the city some were stationed at the headquarters to answer a constantly ringing telephone and listing house number where food and clothing were waiting to be picked up Women were assigned to the job of sorting the clothing into boxes marked for men women and children to facilitate the work of re-sorter at Memorial hall in Columbus where all Legion contributions are being handled

Open Until 4 A M

The Dugout was open until near 4 this morning and was open shortly after 7 30 this morning The Dugout will remain open day and night and trucks and cars for pick-up service will be available at all hours until word comes from the state department that further relief is not needed. Contributions of food and clothing to the [illegible]

may be made by calling 684 4176 6162 or 4173

The quality and quantity of clothing and food however to the various relief agencies has been the finest warmest and of the best materials ever collected all agencies said this morning

One woman voluntarily went on a house to house canvass of her neighborhood yesterday and gave the Legion a list of nearly a dozen women who had promised to have food and clothing packed by 10 this morning

The Red Cross office was open until 10 last night and at 7 45 a m today Miss Plack was again on duty to receive the funds which have poured into the office since the first appeal was made Additional containers for money were placed in uptown business places last night

Message from Grayson

The following telegram was received by Harry F Margwarth chapter chairman last night at 7 30 at the chapter office from National Chairman Grayson

Because relief needs in flood areas of Ohio and Mississippi valleys increasing every hour as continued rains send rivers to highest levels in history with more than 400 000 persons driven from homes urge you double your relief fund quota and go as far beyond the doubled figure as possible We are contributing million dollars from national funds Three hundred Red Cross relief workers now in disaster areas giving immediate emergency relief to flood refugees Three hundred fifty Red Cross nurses in field engaged in battle against feared epidemic Food clothing bedding medical supplies being rushed by train truck and boat. Rescue work continuing at top speed Please intensify your campaign efforts and keep me advised daily of amount raised Feel confidence your people will not fail in this great national emergency

Rooms of Marion Post No 3313 Veterans of Foreign Wars will be open at any time to receive food and clothing for the second shipment to Zanesville on Wednesday A truck will pick up donations at the home if 3934 is called All members of the post have been asked to be present at a called meeting Wednesday night

EASTERN ARKANSAS UNDER MARTIAL LAW

engineers in evacuating completely the St Francis river basin from Cairo Ill to the mouth of the White river if an emergency arose

Refugees from the lower part of west Tennessee to the section near Cairo where the Ohio river empties into the Mississippi moved to higher ground It was near Cairo that guardsmen dynamited the Birds Point New Madrid floodways fuse plug levee to reduce the pressure against the city's seawall

The river at Cairo remained stationary several hours after water rushed through the dynamited gap into the 131 000 acres stretching to a new 60-foot setback levee thus relieving the tension temporarily

U S engineers planned to blast a second opening in the floodway's front line levee to permit freer flow from the main channel

The death list unofficially reached 23 in Tennessee. Sheriff J T Hamel reported 14 persons drowned yesterday when a house toppled over into flood waters near Ripley Six persons drowned near Riverdale Ark when a boat overturned on Little river raising the toll in that state to 18 senting early returns from a small number of chapters.

Fourteen drowned today at Paducah Ky when a rescue barge upset.

Homes Topple

Eight coast guard cutters came into Parkersburg W Va, while the Ohio river climbed to the 55.3-foot stage. Houses were toppled from their bases.

Police said their telephone exchange was besieged with calls for aid. They estimated more than 4,000 people have been forced from their homes.

All water service was curtailed to three hours daily. The plant was under water, and the supply was coming from the reservoir. Even the curtailed supply may be exhausted within three days officials [illegible]

REPORTS RECEIVED OF DEATH OF KIN

fied reports which had been connected with radio bulletins The reports however could not be traced there nor had Mr Osborne heard any word from his sister up to noon today

Mrs Clasco was reared in Prospect township but has not been a resident of this county for a number of years She formerly lived in Akron and had been living in Cincinnati since last summer following her return from Florida

She was last heard from by relatives several days ago reporting the flood was reaching the area where she lived

Scioto Continues To Go Higher

The third flood crest in the last three weeks was expected in Marion today as the Scioto river continued to rise at Prospect and Green Camp The rise in both points was reported somewhat slower than it had been in the previous crests and at LaRue the level fell during the night

Schools at LaRue reopened today as back roads cleared up sufficiently for busses to get through At Green Camp the school remained closed today

Cold weather which is believed to be checking the rise is also causing considerable free ice from back water to flow into the river No damage is expected from this source since most of the ice is reported in thin sheets

Higher at Prospect

The Scioto at Prospect reached the 12 foot stage at 8 a m this morning while at the same time yesterday it was 11.73 It fell until 5 p m yesterday to 11.5[illegible] feet and then began a rise which is still continuing The rise during the night was 48 of a foot Dave Hord government river observer reported The road from Newmans to Prospect is still flooded

At Green Camp the river rose between five and six inches last night but the general level is believed to be about two feet under the previous crests The road leading north to Big Island is covered the river road on the west side of the Scioto south to Prospect is impassable the Marion-Green Camp road is again covered for a few hundred feet near Green Camp

LaRue was virtually out of the flood class according to R C Larth official river observer who reported the Scioto is now at 11.10 while yesterday morning it was at 13.5 feet It is expected to drop still lower today Water covers roads leading east out of the village but school busses have been able to get through permitting the schools to reopen

Warns of Roads

Workmen and officials from the county engineer's office and state highway department division headquarters here continued their task of repairing roads when possible and erecting warning signs on those which are impassable County Engineer Carl H Tozzer renewed his warning for motorists to stay off the roads unless in emergencies The condition of the road although free of water can not be determined and may be completely washed out underneath he said

Weatherman E H Paffenberger reported the highest temperature yesterday was 40 degrees the lowest 15 while a year ago the maximum was 16 and the lowest 2 degrees The official prediction is cloudy tonight and tomorrow possibly snow tomorrow slightly colder tonight with slow rising temperature tomorrow

Olentangy Out at Delaware

Special to The Star

DELAWARE O., Jan. 26—For the fourth time in 10 days the Olentangy river here passed flood stage and continued to rise today. Thomas Graham, local weather and river observer, said the river measured 11.1 feet yesterday and was again rising as a result of rainfall farther north. Flood stage is nine feet.

Fair weather was expected for the next 24 hours and will probably relieve the situation both here and along the Ohio valley

"Chislers" Warned by Kenton Police

Special to The Star

KENTON O Jan 26 — City police warned against chiselers as the drive for flood relief money and supplies entered its third day here Police Chief R R Clark said he had received complaints that some unauthorized person or persons are taking Red Cross contributions and pocketing them and urged contributors to pay their cash to a known agent of the Red Cross

The flood situation as it affects Hardin county evolved itself into a continuance of the hectic drive for food clothing and bedding Scioto high students sent a car load of potatoes to Cincinnati yesterday and today were making up a car of onions A total of nine truckloads of clothing and food supplies had been sent out of Kenton to the state Legion headquarters in Columbus last night with others to follow shortly Drives are being made in every community of the county by members of the various American Legion posts

A $100 check was forwarded Monday afternoon by Mrs Mary B Mathews secretary of the Hardin County Red Cross chapter who said that almost the entire original $400 quota had been pledged

RIVER CONTINUES TO RISE IN CINCINNATI STREETS

Devereux said as he [illegible] rain in sight that we will need a magnifying glass to see it for a day or so

The weather bureau said however that a second rainfall due in a day or two might send the river up to [illegible] 81 feet

12 Days to Recede

It will take 12 days to get to 60 feet 20 feet below the crest so we cannot expect resumption of anything like normal activity in Cincinnati until the river reaches that point he added

Safety Director Edw J Ames ordered today that all passenger vehicles except those on official relief business would be ruled off downtown streets effective tomorrow

We expect to have a unified system of transportation tomorrow Ames announced

Trolley service already had been suspended

At Least Eight Dead

At least eight were dead here The Red Cross estimated that 103 000 Ohioans were homeless Of the greater Cincinnati's 750 000 inhabitants 60 000 were destitute

Ever present was the fire hazard The city received only one seventh of its power needs but hoped to obtain more from outside cities Meteorologist Devereux raised his damage estimate to between 10 and 15 million dollars here

Amid this perilous situation opinions were expressed by Gov Martin L Davey of Ohio Gen Ludwig S Conelly and city officials over whether martial law should be proclaimed

Favors Martial Law

Gen Conelly in charge of 1 000 national guardsmen who moved into Cincinnati to augment a force of 1 500 men said he could see nothing that would justify the declaration of martial law in Cincinnati

The Cincinnati authorities have handled the flood situation as well as it possibly could be handled" he declared Martial law is declared only when the civil authorities fail We have come only to assist the Cincinnati police

Dont wait too long before proclaiming martial law Gov Davey told a meeting of the city's disaster council after Dykstra received autocratic powers to meet the emergency

Mayor Russell Wilson recommended it and R R Deupree member of the disaster council declared We should have martial law at once"

Disaster Director Dykstra, tall somewhat rawboned and grim was given backing of a special ordinance passed at an emergency session of the city council which provides a fine of $500 or 60 days imprisonment for failure to obey regulations

The Cincinnati-Covington suspension bridge over the yellow Ohio, closed to vehicular traffic for repairs and strengthening of levees on the Kentucky side was opened temporarily to permit 100 trucks carrying foodstuffs and medical supplies to reach Covington and other ravaged northern Kentucky communities

MAN GIVES PANTS, BUT KEEPS SHIRT

Donor Taken at Word So Flood Sufferers Benefit

The frequently heard expression of good faith I'd give you the shirt off my back had its counterpart here Sunday when the Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce was conducting its drive for clothing for flood sufferers Homes of all members were visited

The collection committee broke in on one member sitting at home entertaining a group of visitors When asked if he had any clothes for flood relief the generous member responded

Certainly you can take my pants

With that the committee held the worthy member to the floor and removed his trousers which by now are in Portsmouth.

POPE PIUS' PAIN NOW DIMINISHING

By The Associated Press

VATICAN CITY Jan 26—Pope Pius XI was reported today to have entered an apparently less painful cycle of his illness refreshed by a night of reasonably good rest

The Holy Father appeared greatly cheered by the lessening of his pain and by the preparation of a new sun room for him facing the Vatican gardens and courtyard near his apartment

ered together and will be taken to the flooded area Wednesday In addition the Legion has also collected approximately $200 which has been turned over to the Red Cross for relief of flood victims In the meantime Wyandot county's Red Cross quota has been raised from $400 to $[illegible]00 Numerous contributions in the way of food clothing and funds have been made directly to Cincinnati by individuals from this county

Fire Damages Clothing for Flood Victims

Matches in Pocket Believed To Have Caused Blaze in Marion Truck

Nearly a fifth of a ton of clothing and food on the first American Legion truck out of Marion yesterday afternoon for Columbus burned at Worthington due it is believed to matches having been left in clothing

An appeal was made today that all clothing be carefully searched for matches and paper before it is contributed An effort is made at headquarters where food and clothing is being received to check clothing in particular but donors have been especially urged to inspect the apparel before it is given

Damage to the truck owned and driven by Wilson W Beck of 154 Kenmore avenue was not extensive and was confined to the truck bed he said

At the Pontifical College of Josephinum one and one half miles north of Worthington Mr Beck and Fred Collins who was assisting him on the trip stopped and inspected the cargo to see that it was riding safely At the first traffic light in Worthington the fire was discovered in the center of the truck

Alighting hastily the two men began unloading immediately A large truck pulled up at the light and the driver seeing the danger gave them a fire extinguisher with which they had successfully checked the fire before the Worthington fire department arrived with chemicals and extinguished the smoldering mass

Spontaneous combustion is believed to have caused the fire A check of the truck showed no gasoline leaks or defective wiring Mr Beck said

The truck was loaded with about a ton and a half of food and clothing Most damage was done to clothing Mr Beck said When the fire had been extinguished and the truck reloaded to continue into Columbus the damaged food and clothing was taken to the Legion Dugout in Worthington to be sorted there by women in hope of salvaging some of the provisions and clothing

The truck left Marion about 3 30 p m vanguard of a fleet of Legion Salvation Army Junior Chamber of Commerce and Veterans of Foreign Wars trucks which are carrying supplies to Columbus Cincinnati and Zanesville for relief of flood sufferers

FLOOD PHONE CALL MADE FROM COAST

Fearing Nearly All Ohio Under Water, Daughter Asks About Mother in Marion.

A Los Angeles Calif woman under the impression that virtually all of Ohio is covered by flood water placed a telephone call to Marion shortly after midnight this morning to inquire about the safety of her mother a Marion resident

The daughter Mrs Helen N Brown called The Star office to make inquiry because there is no telephone at the home of her mother Mrs Maude E Emery at [illegible] Edwards street She explained she had been misled by flood reports reaching California into thinking that almost all of Ohio was under water and that nearly all highways had been closed

Developments at the home of Mrs Emery indicated how her daughter's concern had increased almost hourly The first step was the mailing of an air mail letter that reached her mother this morning inquiring about flood conditions The next step was sending of a telegram last night in which she asked her mother to inform her by return wire whether she was in danger The final step at midnight was the telephone call

Mrs Brown received assurances of her mother's safety from at least two sources today One was her telephone conversation with an employe of The Star early this morning The other was a telegram sent by her mother this morning reporting there is no flood area here

Mrs Brown has lived for 18 years in Los Angeles where her husband a former Akron man is employed as a machinist She last visited her mother here in 1927 She was graduated from high school at Lowell Delaware county before the family moved to Marion

Instrumental Quartet, Tenor On Lecture - Recital Program

PATRONS of the Marion Lecture Recital club and the club members were afforded an excellent evening when the Haydn String Quartet of Columbus and Howard Orr tenor of Marion were presented in a delightful program last night in the ballroom at Hotel Harding

Members of the quartet are no strangers to Marion music patrons and their appearance on this season's program marked one of the musical highlights of the year Equally pleasing and providing an excellent balance was the group sung by Mr Orr who was heard for the first time in solo work on the club's guest program

The quartet opened the program with Brahms Quartet in C Minor opus 51 No 1 playing the allegro romanze poco adagio allegretto molto moderato e comodo and finale allegro In this and also in their remaining groups they gave their audience a delightful interpretation of the composer's score combined with a display of brilliant technique artistry and tone harmony

The Brahms number and also the closing number Quartet in F Major opus 96 by Dvorak were replete with an artistry which brought out the composer's moods with brilliant success In the latter they played the lento and the vivace ma non troppo movements

For their second group the quartet chose three lighter compositions which were equally well received The first of the group was a favorite Mozart composition "Rondo" from his quartet No [illegible] a sketch based on the farewell song of the Chippewa Indians arranged by Griffes and a rollicking Irish reel Molly on the Shore

Mr Orr's group provided a pleasing complement to the instrumental program He possessed a rich and pleasing tenor voice and gave a creditable accounting of one technique and range in a Tschaikowsky number One Who Has Yearned Alone the ever lovely Mendelssohn On Wings of Song and Ah Love but a Day Protheroe Adding to the enjoyment of Mr Orr's numbers was the support given by his accompanist Mrs Helen Crokeson

Both the ensemble and Mr Orr responded to encores The quartet played the rondo movement opus 33 No 3 Haydn and Mr Orr sang Victor Herbert's Gypsy Love Song

Mrs Glen Penty president of the club announced a change in the date for presenting the operetta The Sunbonnet Girl from the latter part of March to Monday night April 5 She also announced a tryout for membership in the Junior Lecture Recital club Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Ackerman music studio and a meeting of the Lecture Recital Study club on the same evening at the home of Miss Grace Cooper on West Columbia street.

First Soil Conservation Payments Received Here

Three Hundred Farmers To Share in $26,221, Checks for Others Will Come Soon

First of the 1936 federal soil conservation benefit checks amounting to $26,221.19 for about 300 Marion county farmers have arrived and are now being distributed County Farm Agent B L Anderson announced today The check for the average farm is $8[illegible]70 in this group he said

The remainder of the applications have not been forwarded to Columbus yet but probably will be sent the latter part of this week

Mr Anderson said He estimated there are still 1,000 or more applications After these are sent in a week or 10 days will be required for the checks to arrive he said

The final group of checks are for parts of Marion Tully Pleasant Waldo Green Camp Claridon Richland Big Island and Montgomery townships The average payment in this group will be somewhat lower than the average payment for the larger group which remains to be submitted to Columbus

The payments are being made to farmers for their soil conservation work in 1936 and are based on a comparison of their activities with their work in previous years Payments are made for reduction of soil depleting acreage increase of soil conserving acreage and for soil building activities such as liming planting of forest trees terracing and new seedings of soil beneficial crops

Farms are being notified by mail that their checks are present The recipient may call for his check at his office in the Marion National Bank building on East Center street or mail the receipt for the check to the office and the check will be mailed and seventy bodies unwashed for many days because of the acute shortage of water

In one of the 12 cars of the train I found Mrs Frank Reed a pallid worn woman nursing an infant daughter who became two weeks old as the train of humanity roared toward Columbus In the seat beside her were three other small children and the remainder of the family four older sons a daughter and her 58-year old husband

We were rescued just in time she said I didn't want to leave because of the baby But they finally had to pack us out by boat

In the next car was the oldest resident aboard 80-year old Marm Brown who puffed stoically on a long curved pipe as her son Isaac and her daughter Susie told of their escape from the flood

Every car of the long train contained its quota of injured children nursing bruises and lacerations received in their escape from the floods

Several women were ill or exhausted and others unused to train riding became sick

Dr Albert L Berndt a knight of medicine in muddied rubber boots torn brown trousers and a rumpled grimy shirt rallied his nursing staff including two volunteers and turned a luxurious club car on the rear of the train into a temporary hospital

Mrs Elizabeth Vanderhossche of Detroit an Ohio State university nurse who had worked in Portsmouth for more than 36 hours without sleep distributed pain and cold pills to children and adults who sniffled from days of miserable living in the flooded city

How long do you figure we will be away? was the most frequent question heard through the 12 cars

CHAPTER NINETEEN

Bigelow Sees His Shadow

T[illegible] was in and [illegible] see them.

Her suite was full of hot-house lilacs and daffodils and bowls of heavy Parma violets, although spring was still a long way off.

"Woody Taylor," she explained, with a wave of her hand toward the flowers. "He sends me a florist's shop every day. An impossible young man. One simply cannot discourage him."

She was wearing an elaborate negligee woven of the blues and greens of a peacock's tail, and smoking one of her long Russian cigarettes.

"You have lunched?" she asked. "I did not want anything—only caviar and champagne.... So—after all—it was someone named Dryden who killed my tiresome countryman, eh? The papers said it, so it must be so. A stupid man who announces everywhere what he intends to do. So for us, the incident is ended, is it not?"

"I hope so," said Bigelow.

"But it must be so." She dismissed the matter with a shrug and turned from him to Anne. "And you, my dear—you are feeling better, yes?"

"Yes," answered Anne, hesitatingly.

"That is good. It is foolish to concern oneself too much over anything. The past is finished—one can do nothing about it. And the future nobody knows. When it arrives, one will consider it. Until then, it is no use to make plans. So it is only the present that is important. That is how I look at life. If the present is agreeable, one cannot ask more."

She leaned back, smiling, and clasping her hands behind her head, called out something to Mariushka in Russian. "Wait. I will surprise you, now. I have another gift from that ridiculous Woody Taylor which you must see," she explained. "Mariushka is bringing it."

Tsarevitch Gets Fed

Mariushka came in smiling for a wonder, with a tiny yellow tiger cub in her arms. Its eyes were only half open, and it was very plump, but not much larger than a good sized cat.

"What is it?" cried Anne, staring.

"A tiger," cried Karsanakoff, "but a baby!" She took it into her arms and hugged it. "Isn't he sweet? He has my eyes. You see? And he is called Tsarevitch. Until now, he takes only milk from a feeding bottle. You shall see. But when he grows teeth, he shall eat all my creditors and the critics who do not admire me, and rival dancers, perhaps, and lovers who no longer please me. So he will grow fat, no?"

Mariushka was dispatched for the feeding bottle and serious matters were ignored for the rest of the visit.

As Bigelow and Anne passed through the lobby of the hotel on their way out, Bigelow saw an inconspicuous little man rise and follow them. And going uptown his taxi was just behind theirs. But Bigelow did not mention the matter to Anne.

He dropped Anne at her door, explaining that he had promised to look in on Austrelitz, and was relieved to see that the little man in the second taxi trailed him instead of remaining on watch before the Phelps house. He was the quarry, apparently, and not Anne. This fact encouraged him considerably, although it did mean that someone was already hot on the trail. Was it only Strong, he wondered, or the police?

At the doctor's office, Bigelow gave his name to the nurse in attendance in the waiting-room—an attractive, competent-looking young woman with auburn hair. Then he waited with what patience he could muster until Austrelitz had got rid of a number of patients. However, he had plenty to occupy his mind....

Austrelitz was still sitting behind his big desk when Bigelow was finally ushered in half an hour later. He was looking tired, Bigelow noted.

"Did Strong call upon you?" asked the doctor, nodding a greeting and wasting no time over preliminaries.

"Yes, but I admitted nothing and denied nothing," answered Bigelow. "Did he call on you, too?"

"Yes,—with the same result," stated the doctor. He drew forward a hardwood cabinet and opened it with an eager air to select a cigar. "I somehow feel disclined to accept his statement that Dryden refrained from making this disclosure to the police, simply out of a quixotic impulse to shield two men completely unknown to him."

To Shield His Wife?

Austrelitz carefully pierced the end of the cigar and lighted it.

"It doesn't sound very convincing, now that I think of it," said Bigelow thoughtfully.

"No. We must admit that—judged by his conduct throughout this affair—the man would seem to be an impulsive hot-headed fool. But he had a whole day to consider his situation after the announcement of Vronski's murder and before his arrest. He must have realized the delicacy of his position. It must have become plain to him upon careful reflection, that his one hope of clearing himself from this charge lay in fixing the suspicions of the police in another quarter. Why then didn't he use this weapon of defense which lay already in his hands? Why didn't he attempt to arouse doubts of his own guilt by implicating us? He'd never even met either of us. He owed us no consideration."

"Isn't he sweet? He has my eyes." Karsanakoff held up the tiger cub.

Bigelow nodded. "Why do you think?"

"Could he have been afraid to center attention on us for fear the trail might lead back to his wife?" asked Austrelitz.

"How could he have been?" asked Bigelow, puzzled. "I've never met his wife. Have you?"

"Yes. I've met her. But I know her only very casually."

"Do you think Dryden knows you've met her? Do you think he thinks you know her better than you do—that she might have come to you to help her against Vronski?"

"I don't know. But I can think of no other reason for him to remain silent except to shield his wife. Perhaps that is why he sent his lawyer to us—to find out just how we were involved before betraying us to the police. So that if his wife were involved with us, he could withhold the information altogether."

"It sounds plausible," admitted Bigelow. "And when we refused to give any information whatever, he planted a 'shadow' on my trail to see what he could discover without our assistance."

"A shadow?" repeated Austrelitz.

"Yes. He's out there, now."

Dryden's wife disappears, tomorrow.

OFFERS AUTO STRIKE PROPOSAL FOR PEACE

would in a customary arbitration proceding. But his arbitration extends only to one point, namely to the reconcilation of differences that may arise in the special temporary board as to the best manner of conducting a fair election. If the President wishes, he can also call on a special commission of prominent citizens to give him expert advice, or he can decide the issues himself after receiving the recommendations of his own created special board.

Arrangements could be made through the rules governing the election to keep the ballots from being tampered with and also to assure a freedom of choice without coercion or intimidation of any kind whatsoever. It might be necessary to entrust the counting of the ballots and their custody thereafter to a court and its officers, a point that could be well taken care of by the rules for the election drafted by the President's board. But whatever the rules, the parties agree in advance to accept President Roosevelt's determination of what they shall be.

I do not know whether the plan I have proposed will appeal to either side or neither, for I have not discussed the proposal or its ideas in any way with persons identified with the employers or the employes or with any public officials. But some such plan will have to be developed if there is to be industrial peace in America, because the country will not long endure the economic disturbance being caused now in its biggest industry nor the threat which continued strikes carry to the future of other industries and businesses and the payrolls of all their employes.

UNITY INSTRUCTOR TO TALK ON GENESIS

A talk on the subject "Mysteries of Genesis" will be given by Mrs. Fannye Jordan Treaster of Columbus Friday night at 7:30 at a meeting of the Marion Unity center. The meeting will be held at the City library. At 4 o'clock on Friday there will be a study hour for children of all ages, and at 2 p. m. the regular afternoon class will meet. At the latter meeting Mrs. Treaster will conduct a class on "Talks on Truth."

"Genesis is one of the least understood books of the Bible," Mrs. Treaster said in discussing her talk. To understand Genesis provides man with great power for bringing good into his life, she says.

Pete Fetter, a member of the Yellow Cab quintet in the Automotive league, last night battered the pins for the highest single game score of the season. Fetter scorched the alleys to the tune of a 269 game to hang up a new mark for league competition. The previous single game high score of 254 was rolled last November by Claude Fields of Stone's Grill quintet.

Fetter set a blistering pace last night, rolling games of 154, 143 and 269, to cop the match honors with a score of 566. He helped his team to high scores of 915 for one game and 2,342 for the match.

Mrs. G. Gunder, a member of the White team in the Ladies All Star loop, led the league last night with a single game score of 156 to tie with Miss D. Maskill of the Blue team, for match score of 423. Complete results of both leagues follow:

Married Comrades

BY ADELE GARRISON

Dr. Gates Feels Certain Meredith Will Recover.

I DO NOT know when anything has so heartened me as did Dr. Gates' smile when he said that he was ready for my questions.

Katherine had said that he was a friend of Hal Meredith's. Surely if her fear that Hal was dying were justified, this physician would not be in the humorous mood which evidently invested him.

I took my courage in both hands, and spoke swiftly.

"I do not know how much you know or guess of this situation," I said, and halted.

"Does that matter?" he asked quietly. "Let it suffice that I know—or guess—enough to give me generous comprehension of the dilemma facing Mrs. Bickett, and to be glad that my friend, Dr. Meredith, is now strong enough in mind and body to set her free from the promise he exacted from her under such harrowing circumstances."

I drew a deep breath and dived into deep water.

"Dr. Gates," I said earnestly, "will you tell me something about Dr. Meredith's condition if I ask it of you?"

I was watching his eyes intently as I spoke. If, for even the fraction of a second, there had come into them a look of wariness, I would have discounted his answer. But his eyes met mine, clearly, honestly.

"But, surely," he said. "I have nothing to hide from you, whose only concern is with Mrs. Bickett. I might speak less freely to her for fear of agitating her."

"It's a simple and a direct question," I said. "Is Dr. Meredith going to live or die?"

"You're endowing me with godlike powers," he said evasively, but smiling. Then he must have seen the panicky look in my eyes, for he spoke swiftly, seriously.

"No one can tell certainly in a case like his so soon," he said. "But I would stake my reputation as a surgeon on a prediction that he will live, a verdict I have already given him."

My breath of relief came from the soles of my [illegible].

"You know, perhaps," I [illegible] "that Dr. Meredith asked me to tell Mrs. Bickett that he released her from any promise to stay here; that, instead, he is insisting upon her going."

Dr. Gates inclined his head gravely.

"Yes, I know," he said. "Dr. Meredith told me himself just now."

He stopped and tapped the fingers of one hand against the palm of the other.

"I trust she will accede to Dr. Meredith's judgment," he said.

"Is there any particular reason why you should wish that?" I asked.

"Yes, there is," he said unhesitatingly. "Dr. Meredith is going to tear himself into tatters worrying about her if she stays here. He is a nervous man, anyway, and he is terribly upset and remorseful about having exacted a certain promise from her when she thought he was dying.

"He feels that there is but one atonement he can make, and that is to get her away from here. Frankly, I feel that from now on his recovery will be retarded by her staying here as much as it was helped by her arrival."

RADIO GOES TO AID OF FLOOD VICTIMS

Handicapped by power breakdowns, broadcasting nevertheless has jumped in to offer its help in the Ohio valley flood, The Associated Press reported today. Stations in the flood areas cast aside their regular programs to turn themselves into information bureaus for rescue workers, to appeal for help to outside sources and to cut in on networks for general broadcasts.

Part of the Whole.

County and municipal officials protesting plans to restore to their units of government some of the costs now borne by the state and federal governments can't be expected to see themselves as part of the whole sketch of an enlarged governmental authority. Yet that's exactly their position.

First the state then the federal government helped them to raise money to keep them afloat during the stormiest years of the depression. The thing is beginning to operate in reverse now. The state government and the federal government want to get out from under their extra financial burdens.

Thus state and federal officials are hinting—even demanding—that counties and cities meet a larger share of relief costs. In no other way can state and federal administrators obtain for their own purposes the money they need. It is not their purpose to decrease taxes. Quite the contrary, they have everything all set up to catch the unwary taxpayer going and coming.

His local government will have to boost taxes to pay for the things which the state and federal governments have been paying for. Those units on the other hand will use the funds recaptured from local government to expand their activities according to the philosophy of the new order as revealed most recently by President Roosevelt in his inaugural address.

Naturally local officials can't be expected to see it just that way. Being politicians they don't like to face higher local taxes. Yet it's as plain as anything can be that if government is going to expand the cost of government is going to expand too. Some one is going to have to step out in front of the taxpayers and announce the sad news.

Local officials protesting attempts to unload more of the cost of government on them and their communities may not realize it yet, but they've been nominated to be the goats.

Two Types of Flood Control

There's a dispute between the advocates of natural beauty and of artificial beauty which never gets anywhere.

The first claim a stream is most beautiful in its natural state winding choked with fallen branches and made sluggish with leaves and silt accumulated during many years. The artificial beauty cultists of course straighten the stream clean out its bed cut down all the weeds on its banks and make everything shipshape.

In various ways the same principle is applied to many aspects of nature. Undoubtedly it does make things look tidy but—

When the rain falls there's nothing to prevent it from rushing straight to the lowest point usually the valley of a river some hundreds of miles away. The result of that is agitation for flood control. Dams and reservoirs are constructed.

Eventually they may approximate the flood control which nature once provided free with the roots of trees swamp bogs winding streams choked with sticks and leaves and absorbent mats of dead weeds and grass.

Atrocities In Spain

Atrocities have been committed in Spain. As usual they are being employed to convert Americans to both sides of the conflict in that unhappy country.

The same thing happened during the World war. Atrocity stories helped to inflame public opinion in this country to war heat. It wasn't till after the war that Americans learned about the identical role which atrocity stories had played in exciting Germans against them too.

So if anything has been learned from the World war it should be the general untrustworthiness of atrocity tales. Many of them are untrue. Of those that are true there is this to remember:

War lifts the restraint of civilization from the hands of the uncivilized. It sanctions their instinct to kill [illegible] to plunder. They are the [illegible] of war the gangsters of political revolution. They are incapable of fighting for anything but their own depraved [illegible].

They make atrocity stories believable. They do not make atrocity stories against one side or the other in any conflict believable however because they occur in about equal proportions on both sides in any military conflict. Since atrocities in Spain therefore are not the exclusive prerogative of either the loyalists or the rebels it seems foolish to depend on them as a basis of partisanship in the [illegible] world war which is raging there.

In th[illegible] general [illegible] plan [illegible]

This [illegible] would [illegible] of the [illegible] settle [illegible] of Labor [illegible] Industrial [illegible] representatives of the [illegible] of America [illegible] assisting [illegible] governor of Michigan [illegible]

Second [illegible] 10 days [illegible] tried [illegible] status for his [illegible] [illegible] for the holding [illegible] the [illegible] industry.

Third the plan [illegible] work men in every plant in the industry no matter where located an opportunity by secret ballot to [illegible] what [illegible] nation if any shall [illegible] in collective bargaining and the [illegible] shall plainly indicate all [illegible] bona fide workers organizations including craft unions of the A F of L and the unions of the Committee on Industrial Organization which the workers may appoint to [illegible] wages and [illegible] with the [illegible] of the [illegible] vote [illegible]

[illegible] to give less favorable or more favorable terms [illegible] hours and wages [illegible] whether or not they are represented in the workers council?

Sixth the company agrees [illegible] of disagreement between the [illegible] of the workers council on matters of wages and hours to negotiate [illegible] representatives [illegible] the council or with [illegible] of the [illegible] all [illegible] settlements and pledges that it will not discriminate between groups [illegible] as favorable terms [illegible]

Seventh [illegible] established in each plant [illegible] care of all local disputes apart from wages and hours but with the right of appeal to the council in the event that [illegible] agreement in the solution of a local dispute has been impossible after the [illegible] between local employe committees and local employer representatives in any local plant.

Eighth agreements between the workers council and the employers with reference to wages and hours are to be for fixed periods and a stipulation is to be entered when by both parties agreeing in advance to accept court jurisdiction to determine financial liability in the event that the contracts are violated by any signatory group and no strike of any kind or any lockout shall be authorized by any group of workers or by the employers during the period of such contract.

Ninth agreement by the parties to the submission of a test suit in the proper court or courts with evidence to be offered expeditiously so as to determine the legality of the sit-down strike and the rights of both sides are not to be prejudiced with respect to the use of sit-down strikes or lockouts or the utilization of property rights during the period of the litigation.

Tenth both sides agree to resume work immediately on the acceptance of the foregoing terms and all sit-down strikers are to be taken back to work without prejudice or discrimination in their future relation with the employers.

The importance of such an agreement lies in the fact that it gets over the hurdle which has made it impractical to use the machinery of the Wagner labor relations law. John Lewis says the law will be declared unconstitutional and cannot be enforced because of lower court injunctions while the employers no doubt hesitate to avail themselves of one part of the machinery of a law which step would logically stop them from challenging the constitutionality of other features of the Wagner law.

But a voluntary agreement on a special board does away with the constitutional difficulties because it becomes a mutual agreement apart from the federal labor law—in other words a special contract between the parties. Likewise the President of the United States acts in an informal capacity just as any arbitrator.

LOS ANGELES Jan 26—When Howard Hughes flew from Los Angeles to Newark in seven hours 28 minutes and 25 seconds he surprised the public as usual.

Being secretive is a habit with him. His hangar at Burbank Union Air Terminal is nearly as inaccessible as a vault. Not even members of the airport staff are permitted to enter it and his employes keep always mum.

Howard Hughes

Hughes is slender handsome the soul of affability at times and on other occasions taciturn reserved and almost unapproachable. He is somewhat deaf and does not like to talk by telephone. Few can boast of being his intimate friends.

His millions came from the estate of his father Howard R Hughes Sr founder of the Hughes Tool company of Houston Tex an oil and mining supply concern with branches in several states. After managing the tool business for a couple years after his father's death in 1924 Hughes left for Hollywood.

He poured millions into realistic films that violated the old rules. But he made money on all of his productions except the [illegible] Hell's Angels [illegible] broke about even on that though it cost $3,000,000.

He had intended to produce Queer People a novel [illegible] lampooning Hollywood but shifted his attention to aviation. He had flown since he was 14 years old and after coming to Los Angeles and meeting some of the leading aeronautical experts and manufacturers he had become a flying enthusiast.

Hughes would be the last one to talk about personal romance but his name was linked at various times with those of Frances Drake film actress [illegible] daughter of Mrs Margaret Emerson one time wife of the late Alfred G Vanderbilt and [illegible] society girl.

The Moscow Trial by Fury

BY PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON Jan 26—Confidential information in the hands of impartial sources here indicate the current Moscow trial by fury is about half founded on fact.

The well informed here have reason to suspect there was a rather indefinite plot to overthrow the Stalin regime from within and that there still is one indirectly involving Germany Japan and anti-Stalinites. Likewise there is a broad suspicion in high places here that Editor Radek for one was probably mixed up in it.

The feeling exists also that the Stalin regime is still very shaky, that the trial-spectacle may serve to delay but probably not prevent consummation of the original idea eventually.

Dramatization

Knowing authorities laughed outright at the first propaganda farce staged before the microphones in Moscow last August. The spectacle of ex-high Reds bleating the most abject confessions of their infamies over the radio for peasant consumption was a little too obvious. Everyone knew the defendants would be killed anyway and realized they had probably made a deal with the Stalin governor to offer any fairy tale confessions desired in order to save their wives and children.

Since the world choked on the first one the Stalinites have had an opportunity to perfect their technique. They cut down on the fantasy in this current production and are trying to play it as a more or less straight drama.

They are willing to believe Radek may have had a minor hand in it because he had enough personal ambition for a dozen plotters. They suspect however that his own correspondents whom he named as co-plotters were merely mentioned by him to settle a personal score.

Sea Dog Fight

There is trouble on the bridge in the navy. President Roosevelt is taking the wheel.

What started it was a report of the navy general board recommending a readjustment of the promotion system. This report has not been made public but it was presented to Secretary Swanson some weeks ago. He passed it along to one of the junior admirals in charge of a bureau who proceeded to tear it apart. The junior admiral sent back a counter report which is said to have defended the elective promotion system with sixteen-inch words.

As the story goes Secretary Swanson signed this report and passed it along for publication. However a junior officer read it over and decided to inform the navy secretary that publication would publicly blow the whole row wide open. Mr Swanson reconsidered kicked both reports into a back drawer of his desk and tried to lock the problem up with it.

The news has reached Mr Roosevelt however and it appears the trouble has just begun.

Power

Mr Roosevelt knows a little about the navy from the inside himself. In fact he testified 19 years ago as assistant navy secretary before a congressional committee on the very point involved in this scrap. He said the bureau system of the navy was then antiquated which means it must be 19 years more antiquated.

What will come of it will probably be a reorganization of the existing bureau of navigation yards and docks etc. It is quite possible the power of the general board will be re-established or a general staff created to dominate the navy as the general staff in the army. The board is made up of the older admirals like Reeves and Upham who are within a year or so of retirement and they rate authority. As matters now stand their recommendations are generally wastebasketed by the junior admirals in charge of the bureaus as in this case. The chief of operations is top.

Triple Sell Out

What happened in the kidnaping of Chiang Kai Shek by Chang Hsueh Liang may never be fathomed officially but authorities here finally have an explanation which sounds reasonable.

They are willing to make apologies to Japan for suspecting she engineered the original coup. They believe now that the ex-opium smoker kidnaped Chiang Kai Shek because his own army was about one half to two-thirds Communist. He seems to have made a trade with his Communists to capture Chiang Kai Shek not for the purpose of fighting Japan as he announced but to promote the Communist cause against the Nationalist Chiang Kai Shek government.

Draw

After capturing Chiang he found the whole country rising against him. He saw that pursuit of his objective would lead to a greater slaughter than he anticipated and he knew he could not win.

Therefore he deserted his army and joined his kidnapee for a promise of immunity thus selling out for the third consecutive time and to his original purchaser Chiang Kai Shek had originally hired him to chase Communists. Some money may have changed hands. Palm greasing is an old Chinese custom even with rats who are cornered.

The result was a draw between the Nationalists and the Communists. Incidentally there are supposed to be 500,000 Communists under arms in China and 125,000 to 175,000 in Chang Hsueh Liang's former army.

Rejoicing in Tin Pan Alley

BY O O McINTYRE

NEW YORK Jan 26—Tin Pan Alley is shouting hosannas over the physical comeback of the talented tunemaker Vincent Youmans. Two years ago when the genius who wrote the music for Hit the Deck, Flying Down to Rio, No No Nanette etc departed for Colorado there was dubious head wagging.

He was regarded as dangerously ill but he stepped from a train at Grand Central the other day a picture of health and buoyancy. After a brief tour of Europe he will return to Manhattan to fulfill several delayed musical show contracts. His head hums with ditties.

During his convalescence he completely abandoned the calling he loved. He would not even have a piano in his apartment. Instead he encouraged during his long leisure young composers by writing long letters and looking over their efforts.

Crossing on the same liner with Youmans several years ago he was called upon at a ship's concert during a bad storm. As he was about to take his seat at the piano he said "I will now—" And a lurch of the liner floored him. As he arose he continued "hit the deck."

All the top flight magazine artists did not undergo the candle-lit travail of The Village attics and the Left Bank garrets. One in particular is Brad Crandall who never took an art lesson in his life. He has since grammar school days had a natural flair for drawing the heads of pretty girls and with this talent launched an enviable career. And now he graces the covers of Cosmopolitan in the treasured spot long held by Harrison Fisher.

Alfred Sloan Jr is regarded as having the most amazing memory among the industrial giants. It is a natural accomplishment and has no dependence on the science of mnemonics. One of his feats recently was to stand in receiving line at a reception in the University club and call by name each of the one thousand guests.

Two of the town's ace squash racket players are Robert Ripley and Gene Tunney. The game incidentally is next to badminton one of the swiftest and has become the relaxation of high powered executives such as Bernard Gimbel. Many fine homes and penthouses have courts. Another impetus to the game is that Coward has taken it up. It only needs Woollcott now to make it perfect.

There are still spots of old fashioned loneliness in the modern Manhattan scene. Two blocks from the Waldorf is a family of cliff dwellers who put soap stones in their bed and throw open a window. And Henry Sell tells of a visit to Sutton Place where at the conventional bedtime hour a grandfather in a quavering voice sang "Bringing in the Sheaves" with members of the family joining in. And a fancy dinner lately in Fifth [illegible] the butler passed [illegible] in a silvered bowl. Remember that out on the prairie?

Twenty Rural Teams Booked for Tenth Round Games

AGOSTA, CLARIDON HAVE OPPORTUNITY TO TIE PLEASANT

Unbeaten Waldo Girls To Seek Eighth Victory at Claridon's Expense

Curtailed last week because of flood waters and adverse weather conditions Marion county's cage program is to resume full schedule this week as the teams move into the 10th round of the 14-game schedule

This week's games providing adverse weather conditions don't interfere with the program will find Claridon at Waldo Marcel at Caledonia LaRue at Agosta and Kirkpatrick at Green Camp Friday night.

Game Rescheduled

Three of five clashes last week were postponed because of high water in various parts of the county Of the games held over from last week only one has been announced as rescheduled The contest will take Morral to Prospect Feb 10 while games matching Caledonia and Pleasant teams and teams of Green Camp and LaRue have not yet been rescheduled

According to the present standings of the county boys league Pleasant holds undisputed first place with but one defeat in seven games Although in the top spot two others teams Agosta and Claridon, have also suffered but one loss but have participated in only six games Pleasant has no scheduled game this week

Agosta should experience little trouble in bagging its sixth victory because the opposing LaRue cagers have won but two of four contests this season Claridon is likewise favored over Waldo the latter team having a record of three wins in seven starts Should both teams turn in victories this week it would mean a temporary three-way split for first place honors

Waldo Favored

In the girls division of the competition, Waldo High's team champions of the league for the past two years and undefeated in seven games this season will be another victory when they entertain Claridon's sextet this week The strong Waldo team is favored the opposing team having broken even in six contests The Kirkpatrick-Green Camp fracas will bring together two strong girls' clubs Kirkpatrick with but one defeat holds second spot in the league standings while Green Camp is in a tie for fourth with four victories in seven games

County league teams are fast headed for the last round up and except for postponed conflicts only two rounds of scheduled competition will remain after this week end The squads are already looking forward to the county tournament School officials have begun preliminary plans for the annual event

Likewise Johnny LaRue of Dallas Tex showed [illegible] that he wasn't above stooping to rough stuff as he gained a win over Aggressive Black Panther LaRue hardly recognizable to fans who remember him without his [illegible] Charlie Chaplin mustache [illegible] himself the disfavor of the crowd by laughing at his dark skinned opponent

A scrappy 30-minute preliminary which completed the card ended in a draw between the two husky contestants Dave Reynolds of Cedar Rapids Ia and George Hartley of Milwaukee Slams spine shoulder [illegible] and [illegible] featured the first opening round with Hartley seeking the [illegible] of the [illegible] several occasions It was the first appearance here for the man from Milwaukee and fans who favored his opponent came near seeing Reynolds scoring the fall as the match reached its time limit

The first round of the Angelo-Pogi match went 33 minutes with the Italian working on his opponent's left arm in to render [illegible] [illegible] Pogi's efforts to aid Angelo [illegible] of leg holds and neck pressure was to no avail as the squat Italian came through on top at the end of a long first round The pair exchanged rabbit punches frequently and sparred [illegible] several times

Breaking [illegible] a headlock Angelo worked for an arm hold and standing on Pogi's back pulling a leg with one hand and an arm with another succeeded in getting a hammerlock Angelo took several shoulder dives into his opponent's body as he applied the hammerlock and then followed with a wrist twist and muscle pound which forced the South American to concede the round The final fall lasted less than 60 seconds with Angelo coming out fast to fl[illegible] on his opponent with an arm twist and body slam Continuing the rough work out on Pogi's battered arm Angelo forced him to say uncle and won the scrap in two straight falls

The first fall of the LaRue Panther match went 19 minutes with the Texan winding it up with a flying head scissors and body press LaRue opened with a neck scissors to counter the Panther's tough head hold and the Texan followed through with a clever display of leg holds Undaunted the sepia skinned warrior came back to even the match by winning the second fall at the end of 17 minutes

LaRue tried repeatedly to gain a leg hold but the Algerian applied an arm stretch and twist and finished the round with a combination shoulder butt and slam which floored the Texan The final and deciding round went nine minutes with the Panther trying for and applying an arm stretch before LaRue motored his way out Twice the Texan bit his way to freedom and after knee jolting the Panther to the mat won a body press

Between rounds last night it was announced that the promoters of the match had offered the net proceeds to the flood relief funds The Marion Steam Shovel Athletic association cooperated in donating the use of the gymnasium and donations were taken from the crowd netting a total of slightly more than $15!

Winning Team Not Sought by Chicago Prexy

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO Jan 26—President Robert Maynard Hutchins of the University of Chicago says that while he hasn't any positive objection to a winning team he believes that a winner is not of much importance to an educational institution

Intimating that he won't be much concerned if Chicago never produces another football championship squad the Maroon president said that if a winner does come along it will be more or less by accident Nothing in the way of special efforts will be made to build one

I haven't any positive objection to a winning team he said In fact if such a team should trot out on the field some fall day I'd probably join as lustily as the students in the cry of Go Chicago! But such a consummation would be only an incident not a main objective in university life

Athletics he said has its proper place in a well balanced curriculum but their aim should be in the development of the general health and physical well being of the student body

Daily Pattern for Home Use

BY ANNE ADAMS

MAKE YOUR OWN SLIMMING FLATTERY FOR MORNINGS OR AFTERNOONS

As refreshing an "at home" frock as ever you'll see—this sprightly style that'll keep you looking young and slim whether you're rushing through a busy morning, or entertaining friends on a leisurely afternoon! It will be well worth your while to order Pattern 4306—so choose a few yards of inexpensive fabric, and find out for yourself how easy this frock is to make in no time at all. Even if you're only a "beginner" you'll find the few simple pattern pieces are quickly and easily fitted together, aided by the expert guidance of the accompanying step-by-step sewing instructions. You'll love the novelty belt which adjusts high or low, since the deep-cut bodice is without a waist-line seam. Lovely to look at in printed pique, linen, seersucker, shantung or gingham. Pattern 4306 is available in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 takes 3[illegible] yards 36-inch fabric.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps (coins perferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly size, name, address and style number.

Ready for you—the new Anne Adams pattern book! Order your copy toay, and make fashion news in your "set" with a gay wardrobe, easily made! Cut a fine figure in slimming "at home" or dress-up frocks! Win admiration in jaunty afternoon models, party clothes, sports togs and trim suits! Finery for tots and 'teens, too—as well as newest fabrics! Book fifteen cents. Pattern fifteen cents. Twenty-five cents for both when ordered together.

Send your order to The Marion Star, Pattern Department, 243 W. 17th St., New York, N. Y.
